

COLOR FILTER ARRAY AND COLOR INTERPOLATION ALGORITHM

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 A color filter array includes arrangements of green-filtered pixels to optimize performance and accuracy of color interpolation operations. Where red or blue pixels are found, green values are estimated with a high degree of accuracy. Unknown red and blue intensity values are interpolated by converting known red and blue values to hue. The interpolated hue values are then converted to intensity data.